

Leopold dentist welcomes leading-edge tech

EXPERIENCE GATEWAY PLAZA FAMILY DENTAL'S WORLD-CLASS TECHNOLOGY AND DEDICATED CARE FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Gateway Plaza Family Dental is leading the way with world-class technology in a warm and caring environment.

The Leopold dental clinic has advanced equipment that is among the best in the world and prides itself on personalised treatment plans for the whole family.

With experienced dentist Nassier Al Obedy at the helm, the Bellarine Highway practice is committed to ensuring each patient receives high-quality care in a relaxed atmosphere.

The custom-built practice has an exciting array of services including general dentistry, dental implants, teeth whitening, Invisalign and dentures.

Patients can rest assured they're in good hands with Dr Al Obedy, who has almost 30 years' experience caring for patients from all walks of life.

He took over Gateway Plaza Family Dental, which opened in 2017, earlier this year.

"The practice in Leopold is on par with the best clinics available in Beverly Hills," he said.

"This practice has been custom built for purpose and has a range of features to make sure patients have the most relaxed visit possible.

"We have free carparking on site and we're close to the Bellarine Peninsula and Geelong."

Dr Al Obedy, who is known to patients as Nas, worked with the New Zealand Navy before moving to Australia. He completed a postgraduate diploma in dental implants at the University of Sydney in 2006, around the time he began living and working in Geelong.

He was practice principal at Bupa Dental in Belmont for 16 years.

Due to sporting injuries as a child, Dr Al Obedy has undergone extensive dental treatments, which allows him unique insight into the most comfortable way to execute procedures.

"I have had every treatment imaginable," he said.

"It helps me as a dentist because it's an education that you don't get at university."

His passion for dental implants, which can replace one or several teeth, stems from their ability to change patients' lives, allowing them to talk, smile, eat and laugh with the confidence they deserve. Using 3D software and advanced technology, Dr Al Obedy can complete an implant surgery without the need for a single stitch.

His desire to be a dentist was fuelled by his love of a challenge, keen attention to detail and passion for keeping up to date with fast-paced changes in dental technology.

Gateway Plaza Family Dental's team includes oral health therapist Laura Malishev, who has dental phobia herself and understands the importance of compassionate, gentle care.

Mrs Malishev adores working with children to develop positive dental habits early in life, ensuring their experience at the dentist is always positive by keeping on top of any potential issues that may arise.

For state-of-the-art dentistry services and personalised care look no further than Gateway

Plaza Family Dental.

World-class care sets Gateway Plaza Family Dental apart

GATEWAY Plaza Family Dental in Leopold is using the latest technology to ensure its patients receive world-class care.

Dr Nassier Al Obedy has taken ownership of the modern practice which he says fits perfectly with his vision for a well-designed space that is comfortable for the dental team and patients of all ages.

Before taking over the practice, Dr Al Obedy conducted extensive research into the best and most innovative technology on the market.

"I wanted to ensure that this particular practice I am building is on par with the best practices not only in Melbourne but anywhere in Los Angeles," he said.

"The technology that I have selected is on par with the best in the world."

Gateway Plaza Family Dental covers all aspects of general and implant dentistry and uses state-of-the-art equipment to treat people in the most caring and effective way.

"In the last 10 years there's been a revolution in dental technology which is playing a big part in modernising the profession," Dr Al Obedy explained.

"Technology can do things now for us in the dental world that we didn't really even dream would happen.

"For example, the clear alignment technology which people know as Invisalign and the 3D printing of crowns, veneers and dentures."

Dr Al Obedy, who was Practice Principle at Bupa Dental in Belmont for 16 years, said his new team was hand-picked based on their level of experience and dedication to patient care.

"I took my time to pick the nurses, the oral health therapists and every single person who works with me," he explained.

"I wanted a team of experienced and caring people from the local community."

He said the practice's oral health therapist and hygienist, Laura Malishev, is the best he has worked with.

"She cares genuinely about her patients but the big plus in her case is she is a dental phobic herself," he said.

"In my 15 years or more in Geelong I haven't seen anyone who cleans and looks after teeth as gently as Laura does. A gentle handed hygienist makes the world of difference."

Dr Al Obedy said he wasn't blessed with good teeth as a child and, combined with a couple of sporting injuries, has undergone almost every dental treatment.

"I know exactly how everything feels," he said.

"When I was a patient, when I was on the other side, I thought there is a better way of doing this.

"I've actually learnt from my experience as a patient as much as I've learned from textbooks."

Dr Al Obedy, who completed dental implant postgraduate studies at Sydney University, said the practice offered implant treatments from the simple to the complex.

He said Gateway Plaza Family Dental concentrated on providing preventative and minimal intervention dentistry to children and individualised treatment plans for adults to provide long-lasting solutions.

"We take a holistic approach to dentistry and we focus on making patients feel comfortable while getting the best possible treatment," he said.
